I also declare that:

the manuscript does not contain classified information, legally protected secrets or data disclosed in breach of the law;

the authors complied with applicable regulations on personal data protection, classified information, trade secrets, security, defence and critical infrastructure, where applicable.

12. Third-Party Materials

I declare that:

the manuscript does not contain third-party materials requiring separate permission, licence or attribution;

or:

the manuscript contains third-party materials, and the authors have obtained all required rights, permissions or licences for their use.

Third-party materials may include photographs, maps, figures, diagrams, tables, charts, data, text excerpts, standards, documents, graphic signs or other legally protected materials.

If a specific item is not covered by the Creative Commons licence applied to the article, this must be clearly indicated in the caption, footnote or another appropriate place in the manuscript.

Description of third-party materials and legal basis for their use, where applicable:

.....
.....

13. Citations and References

I declare that:

- all citations and references have been prepared accurately;
- the cited sources are relevant to the research problem, method, data, results and discussion;
- the authors have not engaged in citation manipulation;
- the authors have not included excessive self-citations or citations unrelated to the manuscript content;
- the authors have not been required to cite specific publications, authors, institutions or journals without scholarly justification.

14. Copyright and Licence

I declare that the authors are authorised to submit the manuscript for publication and to grant the Publisher the licence specified below.

Unless otherwise indicated, authors retain economic copyright in the article. Moral rights remain with the authors in accordance with applicable law.

If the article is accepted for publication, the authors grant the Publisher, i.e. the Military University of Technology, a non-exclusive, royalty-free licence to use the article to the extent necessary for its publication, dissemination, preservation, indexing and open-access availability.

The licence granted to the Publisher includes, in particular, the following fields of exploitation:

- fixing and reproducing the article by any technique, including digital, printing, reprographic and electronic techniques;
- entering the article into computer memory, servers, editorial systems, databases, repositories and ICT systems;
- making the article publicly available in such a way that anyone may access it from a place and at a time individually chosen by them;
- publishing the article on the SLW journal website;
- preserving the article in the Publisher's resources and in external digital preservation services;

- transferring and making available metadata and full texts in indexing databases, repositories, digital libraries, catalogues, DOI services and other distribution channels related to SLW's publishing activities;
- using the title, abstract, metadata, citations, DOI and author information for the purposes of identification, indexing, discovery and promotion of the scholarly publication.

The authors agree that articles accepted for publication from issue 1/2026 onwards will be made available to users under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International licence (CC BY 4.0), unless otherwise indicated for a specific item.

The authors confirm that they understand that the CC BY 4.0 licence allows users to copy, distribute, share, adapt and use the article, including for commercial purposes, provided that appropriate credit is given, the source, licence, DOI, where assigned, and any changes are indicated.

15. Self-Archiving

I declare that the authors have read the SLW self-archiving rules.

Authors may deposit the preprint, Author Accepted Manuscript and Version of Record in institutional, subject, national and international repositories, as well as on personal websites and scholarly profiles, in accordance with SLW policy.

When depositing an article, authors should provide the full bibliographic reference, DOI, journal title, a link to the version published on the SLW website and the applicable licence.

16. Publication Fee

I declare that the authors have read the fees and waivers policy published on the SLW website.

The authors acknowledge that, for articles accepted for publication, a publication fee may be charged in accordance with the current "Fees & Waivers" policy.

The authors acknowledge that the publication fee does not influence editorial assessment, reviewer selection, peer review or the decision to accept or reject a manuscript.

17. Corresponding Author Responsibility

I declare that, as the corresponding author:

- I am responsible for communication with the Editorial Office on behalf of all co-authors;
- I undertake to respond to Editorial Office messages and requests within the specified deadlines;
- I acknowledge that failure to respond within the specified deadline may result in closure of the submission or administrative rejection of the manuscript;
- I am responsible for communicating editorial decisions, reviews, revisions, fees and manuscript processing stages to all co-authors;
- I confirm that all author data provided to the Editorial Office are accurate to the authors' knowledge and have been provided with their consent;

I confirm that I have read the information on personal data processing by SLW.

18. Active Submissions in SLW

I declare that:

the same corresponding author or first author has no other active manuscript currently being processed by SLW;

or:

there is another active submission in SLW, as specified below.

Submission number / title / processing stage:

The authors acknowledge that, in accordance with SLW policy, a further submission by the same corresponding author or first author may be returned or rejected on administrative grounds if an earlier manuscript remains active in editorial, peer review, revision or production processing.

19. Confirmation and Signature

I declare that the information provided in this form is true, complete and submitted in good faith.

I acknowledge that providing false, incomplete or misleading information may result in suspension of manuscript processing, rejection of the manuscript, retraction of the article after publication, publication of an appropriate editorial notice or other actions consistent with SLW policies.
